

No one, no matter how rich or self important should have the right to harass an individual at any time. There are individual rights that should be respected. If anything the no call rules should be even more restrictive with more severe penalties for those who choose to ignore the rules.